REV. M. L. PARDO DIES AT HIS HOME TUESDAY

WELL KNOWN EVANGELIST SUC-CUMBS AFTER SEVERAL MONTHS ILLNESS

M. L. Pardo, age 62, evangelist for more than twenty years in various parts of the United States and Cuba, died at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at his home here after a stroke of apoplexy. Mr. Pardo had been in ill health for about three months.

Mr. Pardo was born in Donaldsonville, La., in 1866 and in 1888 was married to Miss Lottie Davis of San Antonio. He lived in Texas thirty years with the exception of a year in Mississippi and two years in Cuba. He was pastor of the Marlow Baptist church, three miles east of Cameron, up until the time of his illness.

Surviving him are four daughters, Mrs. Syd Stidham of Houston; Mrs. J. P. Terrell, Jr., of Temple; Misses Naomi and Charlotte Pardo of Cameron; one son, Charles Pardo of Houston, one brother, Joe Pardo of Donaldsonville, La.; one sister Mrs. Frank Cannon of Donaldsonville, La. He is also survived by his wife.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock from the First Baptist church with E. S. Hutcherson, pastor of the deceased assisted by B. B. Blaylock of Mart and P. T. Ramsey, pastor of the Methodist church conducting the services.

Pall bearers were: S. M. Burns, F. J. Beckerman, Wm. Henderson, W. G. Allen and R. P. Jeter.

Giant Catfish Gives Fishermen Tussle; Is Weighed at 70 Pounds

"They have caught him" said the word going the rounds early Saturday morning. Folks got interested and soon the discovery was made that a 70 pound catfish was being weighed and skinned on the warf of the ice plant.

The big cat was landed early Saturday morning by Hayden Lawrence and Jim Stutts, veterans of river angling, but not without the assistance of Gib Terry and W. A. Jones of Minerva. The Minerva fishermen are claiming some of the victory if not the lion's share. They say Lawrence and Stutts had been sparring with the big cat for several weeks as he churned up and down the river, tearing up tackle and blowing water like a porpoise. Whether the vets found more in the big cat than they could handle is a question. Let them tell you about it. The main thing is that the big fish has been landed.

The cat was a yellow fish and weighed 70 pounds, was about five feet in length and served many fish eaters Saturday. A great crowd gathered about the big fish and it is expected that fever will run high for some time as others go forth to duplicate the stunt of landing the champion big one of waters of Little River.

F. A. Michalka Wins Detroit-Jewel Stove

Tuesday afternoon at the Milam County Hardware Company a crowd gathered, anxiously waiting and hoping that luck might favor them with the wonderful Detroit-Jewel Gas Stove that was to be given away. Those who had made a deposit of $9.00 on a Detroit Jewel were entitled to place their names in a box from which the lucky one was to be drawn, thus entitling him to the stove for that amount.

The name drawn was F. A. Michalka of the Cameron Machine Shop. Mr. Michalka was not present at the drawing but was notified immediately after and was highly pleased at being the lucky one.

Buckholts Defeats Santa Fe Nine Here

The Santa Fe baseball team passed out of the running for the Central Texas amateur baseball championship Sunday afternoon when they suffered an 8 to 1 drubbing at the hands of the Buckholts team on the diamond in Cameron. The victory was the second straight for the visitors and they will play the Kirk team a series of three games for the right to go into the semi-finals.

Beasley, former Killian high school star, hurled the entire game for the railroaders and was rapped freely by the heavy hitting Buckholts team. He was also free with passes and was accorded slow and erratic support by his teammates.

Summerell had the Santa Fe batters at his mercy and retired ten batters by the strike out route. He was given splendid support by the infield composed of Ray, Warren, Farley, Young. The big hurler also aided his own cause with a home run over the left field fence.

The Santa Fe team's lone run was counted in the seventh on successive doubles by Lawrence and Craft. The latter was out when he overslid second to end the one threat against Summerell's offerings.

The names of parties who witnessed these tests are on file also the car is here and ready for further showing to interested parties.

A remarkable feat of this test is the new motor with slightly better than 90 brake horsepower and regular factory equipment throughout; consistently gets this splendid mileage and later as it wears in would exceed this mileage.

Assembling Plant of Chevrolet Opens To Atlanta Visitors

The formal opening during the past week of the Chevrolet assembling plant in Atlanta, Ga., coming at a time when a similar plant is under construction in Kansas City, is further indication that there is to be no let down in the company's extensive sales program.

The mammoth Atlanta plant, which has been in operation since May 1 is capable of turning out 350 cars a day and was the eighth assembling plant to be opened by Chevrolet in this country. The Kansas City plant with the same capacity will be the ninth.

Atlantans last week welcomed their first opportunity of visiting the great assembling plant, and seeing the magic Chevrolet assembling line produce the world's most popular automobile from a set of seemingly unrelated parts. Atlanta newspapers welcomed Chevrolet to the southwest, and viewed the plant as a southern institution.

It was mainly southern contracting genius that built it in four months, one week and six hours, several days before the contracted time had expired. Southern help has been operating it ever since the first car rolled off the line. It serves the southeastern market exclusively supplying cars to the dealers of Georgia, North and South Carolina, Alabama and Florida. A southerner, W. S. (Crane) Roberts has been placed at the head of this, the newest and one of the greatest of the south's industrial institutions.

The plant covers 32 acres and occupies 410,000 square feet of floor space. There are five buildings, and in the main one the Fisher Body Company is using 160 by 760 square feet of space to build their famous bodies for the Chevrolet closed cars.

The plant is ideally located with the tracks of the Southern Railroad paralleling its loading dock. Track storage for 300 freight cars is provided. Another facility to speed up deliveries is a driveway shed, 40 by 220 feet, where dealers from nearby cities can take deliveries of cars.

In his office at the plant, L. S. Costley, regional sales manager, has been directing a sales legion that has as its field 11,000,000 people in the five southwestern states. Figures for the Southeastern automobile market show that it is rapidly becoming one of the best in the country with the demand for Chevrolet increasing rapidly. Due to the perfection of its product and the expansion of its sales forces, Chevrolet's sales record in the southeast has been second to none.

Official figures show that the number of Chevrolets sold in the Southeastern region were 16,390 for the fiscal year, 1924-25. The following year the figures reached 53,417. Last year the figure was more than 81,500. This fiscal year close to 95,000 sales have been registered.

The Southeastern Region, with headquarters at Atlanta is composed of five zones with offices at various key points in the territory. These are located at Charlotte, N. C.; Columbia, S. C.; Birmingham, Ala.; Jacksonville, Fla.; and Atlanta.

Graham Bros. Truck Production Soars to 6900 Units For July

With July production of trucks and motor coaches averaging 298 units daily, Graham Brothers, the truck division of Dodge Brothers reports the best July business in history and the heaviest sales of any month since June 1926. Unfilled orders are working all pants to capacity and officials expect the new line of sixes, featuring four speed transmissions and four wheel brakes, to continue production records for the second half year. Production for August will be maintained at the pace set in July, which approximated 6900 units.

That sales are keeping pace with manufacturing is indicated by the fact that new commercial car registrations for the first five months of this year show Graham Brothers ranking second place or better in twenty-seven states, third in seventeen states and fourth in four states against all manufacturers, regardless of type or price of truck.

Second place was held by Graham Brothers in key industrial states where new registrations are unusually heavy such as California, Illinois, Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

"Buyers of the new line of trucks—whether individual or fleet owners—are enthusiastic about the new line of sixes, according to reports from our dealer organization," said Howard E. Sneathen, director of commercial car and truck sales. "For flexibility, economy and dependability, the trucks are meeting the requirements of all types of business. The four wheel brakes on all capacities, and four speed transmissions on the heavier types enable owners to match passenger car performance and insure most efficient transportation."

Sheriff L. L. Blaylock, Judge John Watson, Mrs. J. W. Cone and Mrs. L. Turner attended the funeral of Mr. Cline at Thorndale Thursday afternoon.

I ask for and will appreciate your—

To The Citizenship of Milam County

I am very grateful for the fine vote given me by Milam county for re-election to the State Senate and especially do I wish to thank my many friends who were so active in my behalf. I did not feel that the office was one that a man should beg for but that my re-election if I received it, should come by reason of the record I had made and as a result of the efforts of friends who were kind enough to wish my return.

While I live in Waco, I wish you to know that I am at the service of any citizen of Milam County who may call on me, as well as the citizenship as a whole, in any matter that I can serve them, particularly in legislative matters.

As I will not have the opportunity to see the voters personally and express my appreciation I take this means of doing so.

Sincerely,
EDGAR E. WITT.

2000 Long, Short, Fat and Skinny Smiths Meet In Galveston

Galveston, Tex., Aug. 6.—The clan of Smith assembled here Sunday but no political move was made to endorse one of its famous namesakes, Gov. Al Smith of New York for President of the United States.

More than 2,000 Smiths were officially registered with the Galveston Beach Association and probably that many more witnessed the various contests from the side lines, Willette Roe manager of the event estimated.

It was the first "All-Smith day" to be sponsored in the world. From virtually every Southwestern state the Smiths came—fat and thin, tall and short, homely and pretty—by train, airplane and automobile.

Politics had been barred and as a result, what was first believed to be a movement to endorse one of their clan for the presidency was nipped. But at that, the name of Governor Smith was on the lips of many in the various delegations.

Lon A. Smith, Texas State Railroad, Commissioner made the only speech of the day, giving a short history of the name Smith. He also won the prize for bringing the largest family which numbered thirteen.

John H. Kirby, Houston lumberman and Democratic State finance director was scheduled to make the principal speech of the day, but he withdrew to join a fishing party.

The New Orleans delegation of Smiths came on a train manned by a crew of Smiths. The Eastland delegation was packed into 26 automobiles. Shreveport also sent a large delegation.

Various contests were held for all kinds and types of Smiths. When Mrs. T. L. Smith of Little Rock, Ark., brought eleven of her family to Galveston she won the prize for bringing the largest family the farthest distance.

Little Miss Margaret Smith, 15 months, was the youngest and C. M. Smith of Bryan, 72 the oldest.

Miss Mary Smith of Houston was the prettiest Smith present. R. W. Smith of Houston was the tallest, P. A. Smith of Houston the shortest, Ed Smith of Houston the thinnest and T. A. Smith of Houston the homeliest.

Dog Holds Entire Family At Bay

Going mad as the family of Frank Workman, 313 Oxford street was about to retire last night, a German police dog attacked the two Workman children and then held Workman at bay atop the bedstead for an hour before the arrival of the dog catcher and the police, according to a story told Monday by Mrs. L. A. Liccon.

Workman, seeing his children being knocked down by the dog, a four-year old pet, ran to their rescue, only to have the animal turn on him. He clambored atop the bed while his wife rushed with the babies, into a closet and closed the door.

Mrs. Liccon, attracted by the cries of Workman, telephoned to the police to rescue them. She said she telephoned several times and that finally the dog catcher put in an appearance and captured the crazed animal. After the dog had been removed, according to Mrs. Liccon, two policeman called at the home and asked if they could be of some assistance.

The dog Monday was at the pound and will be kept under observation for rabies. The children were under the care of a physician.

Community Forest Pays All Taxes And A Good Profit

A community forest which not only pays all taxes but this year will pay dividends as well is described in a press dispatch from Sweden, says the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture.

Since time immemorial the parish of Orsa, in Dalecarlia, Sweden, has owned certain forest lands in common and for many years the forests have yielded sufficient revenue to make all local taxes unnecessary. This year, instead of paying taxes, the residents of the parish are to receive a dividend from the community. At a town meeting it was decided to appropriate $40,000 crowns for the purchase of new seed grain for spring sowing for free pro rata distribution among the landowners. Community forests are growing in number in the United States. Several town forests in New England date back to colonial days, and within the past few years town and county forests have been established in many parts of the country.

ANY ONE CAN WRITE A GUARANTEE

—But a guarantee can't deliver mileage. That rests with the tire you buy—with the experience and known integrity of the Company that built it.

What are you buying in tires?

A guarantee—or mileage?

A PROMISE to deliver mileage—or a tire with the mileage BUILT INTO IT at the factory?

Goodyear offers no definite mileage guarantee. No fine phrases—no empty promises—Goodyear's guarantee is a guarantee of service—a pledge of unstinted satisfaction; assurance that you will get the greatest possible value for your money.

And on this guarantee Goodyear grew eleven years ago to a position of leadership in the rubber industry. Every year since, it has maintained and strengthened this leadership. Today, as in each of the past eleven years, more people ride on Goodyear tires than any other kind.

Isn't this convincing proof that Goodyear's policy to build a tire that is its own guarantee is better for you—the tire user—than a tire bolstered and supported by a written guarantee?

Any one can WRITE a guarantee. Goodyear BUILDS its guarantee into every Goodyear tire.

By Rev. George Henry
Contributions and Gifts

The money you put in the collection plate is not a gift. If you help support an institution that benefits you in every way, is a benefit to the community, the state, the nation, the world; that is not a gift. The money you pay in lodge dues is not a gift. When you pay your taxes you are not making the corporation a present. When will Christian people learn to shoulder their obligations and to regard them as such? Some members of the church refuse to obligate themselves for the maintenance of the organization. They did that when they became members. Why pauperize the greatest and most beneficent institution on earth in the eyes of the world prior to. What you have He has given you to invest. For right investment and management his rewards are out of all proportion to the returns you make. God is the only giver. Pay up.

Funeral Services for Ex-Soldier Held Sunday

Henry F. Abel, who died in the United States Hospital at El Paso on August 1st, was buried at Bushdale Cemetery four miles west of Rockdale Sunday afternoon under the auspices of Carlisle Post American Legion of Rockdale. Funeral services were held at the home of his widow's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Von Gonten, south of Sharp, conducted by Rev. O. R. Schawe, pastor of the Buckholts Lutheran Church. The music was by the Buckholts choir of the Lutheran church. A large crowd attended both funeral and interment services.

Deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Abel of Brenham and the fourth son of a family of seven boys. He was a member of Battery C, 16th Field Artillery in the World War.

A wife, Annie Von Gonten Abel, and a five year old son and a three year old daughter survive him. Deceased contracted tuberculosis while in the army of the late war and was never able to overcome the malady. He was about 32 years of age.

Gift Worth $250,000

"The noblest benefactor that has ever come from America."

That's what the British government has to say about the watercolors by William Blake, which recently were given to the British Museum by Francis White Emerson of Boston. The British government declares the gift is worth more than $250,000.

A quarter of a million dollars for less than a dozen small paintings. Here is another instance of the best-reward of genius, because these watercolors, made shortly after the Revolutionary War, while Blake lived in biting poverty in a back room in the tenement district of London were sold by him for 18 cents apiece.

In writing about his work, Blake said: "The lavish praise I have received from all quarters for invention and drawing, has generally been accomplished by this: 'He can conceive, but he cannot execute.' This absurd assertion has done, and may still do, me the greatest mischief."

And "this absurd assertion" did do him "the greatest mischief." His work both as an artist and a poet was criticised throughout his lifetime. And it was not until many years after his death that his genius was recognized. His work was first acclaimed by Swinburne, who wrote: "Blake was the single Englishman of supreme and simple poetic genius of his time."

There is no gainsaying the charm of Blake's songs. The following, we believe is a representative selection:

THE DIVINE IMAGE

To Mercy, Pity, Peace and Love,
All pray in their distress;
And to these virtues of delight
Return their thankfulness.

For Mercy, Pity, Peace and Love
Is God our Father dear,
And Mercy, Pity, Peace and Love
Is Man his child and care.

For Mercy has a human heart,
Pity a human face,
And Love, the human form divine
And Peace, the human dress.

Then every man, of every clime
That prays in his distress,
Prays to the human form divine,
Love, Mercy, Pity, and Peace.

And all must love the human form,
In heathen, Turk or Jew,
Where Mercy, Love and Pity dwell,
There God is dwelling too.

The World Is Chewing Gum

American gum is making the jaws of every nation chew. For each man, woman and child in this country, it is estimated that 100 sticks a year are used. American soldiers overseas during the World War exposed much of the rest of the world to the habit. Great Britain has become the best customer, followed by The Netherlands, Mexico, and the Philippines, but with Japan, China and Siam not so far behind.

Just recall that only a few years ago as time flies, it was bad taste to chew gum. Advertising is a tremendous power when properly and continuously applied. It not only benefits the one who uses it but also benefits those who read. The continuous use of space properly planned will bring benefit to you or the merchant and the reading of every ad in The Herald will mean education and a big annual saving to the public.

33 Teachers Receive Degrees At State

Requests for thirty-three teachers with doctor of philosophy degrees have been made to the Teachers' Appointment committee of the University of Texas in the last fiscal year, according to Miss Miriam Dozier, secretary of the committee, a fact which indicates a decided uplift in the standards of the teaching profession.

Each of these requests came from a college or a university, but the same tendency is evident among the public schools of the State, Miss Dozier explained. One school official has for the past two years required the master's degree for all of his high school officials and others are rapidly raising the standards of their requirements.

Over-supply of teachers is a common complaint with which Miss Dozier must meet, she says.

"It is undoubtedly true that there are more teachers in many fields than can be easily located," she explained, "but in many cases as in the commercial branches of education, the number of teachers is comparatively few; the demand for well-trained science teachers is always greater than the supply and the number of mathematics teachers is smaller than the number of requests for them."

Causes of the present over supply if there is one, are four. The first of these is that business conditions are such that many men are forced to leave the work they have been doing and seek other employment, many of them turning to teaching. Again, Again, married women in large numbers are entering the profession of teaching as well as the business world. Then too, teachers with improper preparation to meet the demands of the public schools are presenting themselves in large numbers for employment. And finally teachers' certificates are too easily obtained."

Famous Painting For State University

After hanging for years in the historic Cathedral of St. Mark in Venice a painting of the procession of the Corpus Christi, done by Schiavone, has come to hang by the Standard of Saint Mark in the Wrenn Library of the University of Texas.

Presented to the University by Mrs. Lillian Crawford Goodwin and accepted by the University Board of Regents at their last meeting, the painting is a gift of the City of Venice to the late Dr. B. Harvey Carroll, University graduate, in token of his service to the city during the World War. The flag of Venice hanging in the Wrenn Library is likewise a symbol of the esteem in which the Venetians held Dr. Carroll, a symbol of double significance when it is known that until it was bestowed on Dr. Carroll, it has never been given to any person other than a native Venetian. It was presented to the University shortly after his death in 1921 by his wife, Daisy Crawford Carroll, who is also a graduate of the University.

Sam Houston, Donkey Given Mrs. Al Smith Dies of Pneumonia

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 4.—Sam Houston, Texas burro and one of the latest acquisitions to Governor Smith's executive mansion zoo, died of pneumonia today after a valiant fight for life.

Born a day or two before the opening of the Democratic Convention at Houston in June, Sam was presented to Mrs. Smith in the convention hall on the night that Governor Smith received his party's nomination for president and was brought North with the Smith party attending the convention. He became a great pet at the executive mansion.

The cold rains of the North, however, brought on pneumonia about a week ago, and although given the best attention possible, Sam breathed his last at 1:30 o'clock this morning.

To Study Root Rot

Co-operating with Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College and the United States Department of Agriculture the University of Texas will undertake to make a detailed study of the root-rot which is one of the chief menaces of Texas cotton and will conduct exhaustive experiments in an effort to stamp it out, according to Dr. H. Y. Benedict, president of the University. The University will maintain space on the Little Campus for laboratories in which many of the experiments are to be made. Apparatus and equipment for the laboratories will be loaned by the University to the experts who are to conduct the research and the University library will be at the disposal of the workers.

A. & M. College will continue the work it has started in furnishing land for many of the field experiments, field and laboratory and implements for the substation farm. The Federal Government will conduct the studies of root-rot at field stations in Greenville, San Antonio, Temple and Austin, as well as on farms of co-operating farmers in various parts of the state. It will also bear the expenses of the workers as they travel from section to section of the State.

Hurrah for Al and Herb

There are at least two men in the public eye in the United States whom we believe the cigarette manufacturers will be unable to get to endorse their products for advertising purposes.

We refer to Al Smith and Herbert Hoover.

These leading candidates in the presidential campaign don't approve of modern publicity stunts.

Governor Smith refused recently to pose for a picture as a bricklayer. He said that everyone knows he is not a bricklayer and that a picture of him posing as one would be "boloney."

And while Herbert Hoover didn't say that kissing babies would be "boloney," he refused the other day to let the cameramen talk him into posing with a babe in his arms. He said such a thing might be alright for a candidate running for office in a local community but that he did not consider it dignified in the case of a candidate seeking the Nation's highest office.

The attitude of Smith and Hoover is to be highly commended. Press-agenting should play no part in the selection of an executive for the greatest country in the world.

LOOKING THE PROHIBITION IS-SUE SQUARELY IN THE FACE

Wall Street Journal, July 3 Anything which tends to simplify the issues before the people in a presidential year is in the truest public interest. Without prejudice to Prohibition, as a theory of living or of government, it may be said that there has already been an important step made in the direction of sanity. It is now admitted that there is nothing unpatriotic or lawless in advocating the repeal of the Volstead act or even of the Eighteenth Amendment.

When the law came into effect the claim was made that liquor was at last taken out of politics. It was stated in these columns then that so far from that being the case liquor had become the most troublesome question in politics and would continue to exercise a disintegrating influence until a sane and temperate solution was reached. We should be warned by the way this problem grew up and how our difficulties have arisen through following ignorant leaders into extremes.

These leaders were mostly of a clerical character. These ministers of religion were not of that kind who have a stabilizing background of letters, the genuine culture of a great university. They were educated only in the doctrine of the literal inspiration of the Bible; believing in such infallibility as that they adopted personal infallibility on what they chose to consider matters of right living and demanded for their own judgment a degree of unquestioning acceptance which no Pope has ever put forward.

Winning, in the Eighteenth Amendment a victory beyond all their hopes and failing to see how embarrassing that victory would be, they assumed what may be described as a political dictatorship. The Anti-Saloon League played politics as Tammany plays it.

Senators and Congressmen were brow-beaten and cowed. They were told that repeal must not even be considered; that even discussion was disloyal. The separation of Church and State in this country is a vital and fundamental principle of our government. But we have had imposed upon us a clerical rule of the most ignorant and intolerant kind. Is it any wonder that men like 'Bishop' Cannon, Wayne Wheeler and the rest, overplayed their hands?

To the courage of Governor Smith is due a different and better approach to a question which must be settled if this country is to remain free. The Republican party should not shrink the challenge. It is said to be the party of capital, but all economic history shows that capital was always on the side of freedom. It is our duty to face facts as they are and not as sentimentalists and bigots would wish them to be. Prohibition is the greatest issue in politics to-day and party platforms do not cover it up with their timid euphemisms. You cannot ameliorate a cesspool by sowing the surface with forget-me-nots and daisies.

Let us have an election on honest issues honestly advanced with a general restoration of self-respect.

A Horse for the King

And now comes the announcement that Great Britain is to have a new great seal, on which the effigy of the king will be removed from the quarterdeck of a dreadnaught to the back of a charger.

As we reflect on the age of Great Britain's king and the horsemanship of Wales, heir to the throne, we cannot refrain from indulging in a little chuckle at thought of the new seal.

The prince of Wales has been thrown from his mount a total of 67 times in public within the last several years and only the prince knows how many times in private.

The architect of the new seal surely will not make the charger rampant.

$75,000 For Charity Provided By Will

Charitable and educational institutions are to receive $75,000 under the terms of the will of William A. Watts late president of the Chess-Wymond Company who left an estate estimated at $400,000. The will creates a trust fund of $100,000 to be held for the benefit of the testator's mother. At the death of the mother the principal of the trust is to be distributed in accordance with the following bequests:

The Masonic Widows and Orphans' Home and the Kosair Convalescent Home for Crippled Children, $25,000 each; University of Louisville $20,000; Home for Incurables $5,000 and the rest to relatives and friends.

4000 Year Old Maul Presented To Lodge

A maul, said to be over 4000 years old and to have been made possibly during the reign of King Zoser in Egypt about 2966 B. C., was presented to Pelusium Lodge No. 3003 by General Wilson, Deputy Grand Master of Egypt and the Sudan, in appreciation of the lodge's efforts in upholding the great Masonic principles, according to The Freemason of London.

The maul was unearthed during excavations which were taking place at Sakkarah, near Cairo. These excavations have brought to light many interesting details of the work of King Zoser, by whose orders the oldest pyramid in existence (the Step Pyramid) was erected.

This year Pelusium Lodge which takes its name from Pelusium, the ancient outpost of Egypt, now a few miles from Port Said, its modern counterpart, decided to erect its own temple to mark the quarter of a century of its existence. Pelusium is not a large lodge numerically (only 35 resident members) and not a rich one, but it has a rather remarkable record for its works. Regularly subscribing to the three Masonic Institutions, it headed the list of its District to the Million Memorial Fund.

Smile Is Worth $75

Over in Berlin recently the Germans observed "Smile Week."

And the first prize of $75 was awarded to a football player who played throughout a game with a smile despite a pair of broken ribs. The second prize was landed by a shop girl who, day after day throughout the week, waited on the milling shoppers with a smile that wouldn't wear off. The third prize went to a traffic officer whose cheery smile did more to untangle traffic jams than did the average signals.

It would be no easy matter for us to predict the winners should this town hold a "Smile Week."

But we would wager on this—the first prize would not be won by any corpulent operator of a lawn mower.

Miss Day Honored

Two Scholarships Donated To University

Memorial Scholarship, has been granted to Miss Mirnie Lee Spies of Bonham, while the other, to be called the Friendship Fund will be held by Miss Ethel Skelton of Bryan. Both girls will enroll in the University in September as freshmen.

Inspect Student Union Buildings In West

Dr. H. Y. Benedict, president of the University of Texas, accompanied by John A. McCurdy, secretary of the University Ex-Students' Association, R. L. White supervising architect for the University and George Dahl of Dallas, University consulting architect, have just returned from a week's tour of the Middle West, on which they made an examination of student union buildings of some dozen more leading universities and colleges of the section. The investigation was conducted with the end in view of accumulating actual data on union building projects to present to the University Board of Regents when the matter of a Student Union for the University is brought up.

Masonic Institutions Receive Large Bequests

The Masonic Home of Missouri and the St. Louis unit of the Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children are two of the three institutions to receive something more than $10,000 each from the estate of the late Mrs. Marilla E. Comstock, the other being the St. Louis Skin and Cancer Hospital. The three are bequeathed the residue of the estate after payment of other bequests aggregating $139,500 and inheritance taxes and cost of distributing it. As the value of property of which Mrs. Comstock died possessed is estimated at $600,000 the amount to be distributed between the institutions named will exceed $100,000 each.

The Masonic Home is also named among the special beneficiaries for $10,000. The sum allotted to the Masonic Home will be added to the Endowment Fund, lifting it to approximately $800,000. The share falling to the Shriner's Hospital will be expended exclusively upon the unit in this city. The total of approximately $400,000 bequests to the St. Louis hospital is greater than those at any other of the ten permanent hospitals maintained by the Shriners.

The report that theological schools are turning out fewer preachers than formerly was the case no doubt will prove glad news in the poultry world.

Tournament Planned For Legion Golfers

Texarkana, Ark.-Tex., Aug. 9.—One of the principal entertainment features of the Joint Department Convention of the Arkansas and Texas Departments of the American Legion at Texarkana, August 27, 28 and 29 will be a Golf Tournament for visiting golfers, which will be staged at the Texarkana Country Club on Monday afternoon, August 27.

It is said that Texarkana is very fortunate in that its natural climate and topography has offered an opportunity to lay out an 18 hole golf course of true championship caliber. Invariably, visitors express admiration and surprise at such an achievement of golf course construction. In fact, national authorities have placed the course as one of the eight best in the United States and as first in the entire south.

The Golf Tournament Committee, consisting of J. R. Morris, G. E. Stuart and Hays McClerkin, are offering 4 attractive prizes, 2 to Arkansas players and two to Texas players. These prizes go to the players making the lowest net score from each state and to the players making the lowest gross score from each state. In addition to the Tournament, the committee has arranged with the Country Club officials so all delegates and guests with convention registration badges will be afforded a special concession as to green fees.

In speaking of the tournament, Mr. Morris said: "We want all the golfers from various delegations to be sure and bring their clubs for we are confident they will particularly enjoy our unusually fine course. Visitors desiring to enter the tournament will confer a favor on the tournament committee if they will write Texarkana Convention Headquarters advising us to that effect and stating their handicap on their home course."

Kiwanis Clubs Start Forestry Projects

The Kiwanis Clubs of West Virginia have organized a forestry committee including one representative from each club, according to the Federal Forest Service. L. L. Bennett, of Belington is chairman. The committee will arrange for forestry talks before the various clubs and will work for forestry legislation. It will endeavor to get each club to make a forest plantation as part of the local park system or to assist in the establishment of town or community forests and will try to interest each community in the value of forest cover for watershed protection.

CO-OPERATION

By JUDGE JOHN WATSON

"Co-operation is defined as a joint operation or enterprise. The association of a number of persons or corporations for the cheaper purchasing of goods or for carrying on some branch of industry. To work together. It is a term in social economics which thought of general significance in the science of industry and trade has a specific and technical sense, which is, the association of any number of individuals or societies for mutual profit, whether in the purchase and distribution of commodities for consumption or in the production of commodities, or in the borrowing and lending of capital among workmen.

The most powerful co-operative force perhaps, in the industrial system is what economists have termed "the division of labor," and this has its counterpart in the multimodal divisions of capital in its application to the maintenance of extension of industry.

Co-operation, as technically understood, has been declared to occupy a middle position between the doctrines of the communists and socialists on the one hand and private property and freedom of individual labor and enterprise on the other. It takes its departure from communism at a very definite and significant point. While communism would extinguish the motive of individual gain and possession in the sentiment of universal happiness or good and remodel all existing rights, laws and arrangements of society to this end, co-operation seeks to ameliorate the social condition by joining together increasing numbers of associates in a common but individual interest.

The co-operative societies, though attended with the most varied fortune have greatly increased in number and in amount of business in recent years. The form, objects and rules of these associations are by no means uniform. There are three general classes in these organizations:

(1) Societies of consumption, the object of which is to buy and sell to members alone; (2) Societies of production, the object of which is to sell the collective or individual work of the members; (3) Societies of credit or banking, to open accounts for industrial purposes. These societies have many forms such as friendly societies, burial societies, etc.

When the first crude savages learned that two men working together could lift a stone which one man could scarcely move, industrial co-operation began. But so firmly has mankind held to the distinctive "mine and thine," and to the idea that the only way to make mine greater is to make thine less, that joint labor for mutual benefit has until very recently been classed among the schemes that sound well, but are not practical, beyond very narrow limits. In the last year of the 18th Century a British factory owner began experiments which proved profitable for an employer to regard his men as fellow-workers. Since his time co-operation has been successfully introduced into the industrial world in many forms. In general, the word co-operative is limited to democratic organizations for mutual advantage in buying, in selling, in borrowing and in producing, but the co-operative spirit is evident in many present day activities and is the basis of public ownership of railroads and other public utilities.

Co-Operative Buying
In England, about the middle of the 18th Century witnessed the quick opening of a modest little store whose stock of foodstuffs had been purchased with subscriptions of a few cents from each of its owners. Today a visitor will find 1500 stores ranging in size from the smallest of shops to those which do a business of a million dollars a month, together operating factories, farms, plantations in the tropics and a fleet of ocean going steamships—all owned by the people who buy the goods, and all the result of the first venture in the opening of the small store. Its distinctive features are that no member can hold more than one share of capital and that dividends are paid in proportion to the value of goods purchased, not the amount invested.

No other country has applied the principle of co-operation so extensively as Denmark. In this land of prosperous small farms it would be difficult to find a farmer who is not a member of at least one co-operative society. The co-operative dairies export more butter than all dairies in any other country, and return profits to each farmer in proportion to the value of the milk he contributes. The Londoner at his breakfast may have fruit, fresh eggs and bacon, beet sugar and honey, all with their quality certified by Danish co-operative societies. In a little more than a generation co-operation has transformed Denmark from a poor nation to one of individuals uniformly prosperous.

On a smaller scale other countries have met with success in co-operative selling of farm products. Not many years ago the fruit growers of California were unable to get the full value of their crops because of the profits taken by the middle-man, the person who bought their fruit and marketed it in the East. Today, through co-operation, the growers themselves get these profits and the fruit comes to the public in better condition than before. The farmers of the grain belt had a similar experience. Now farmers in the United States have several thousand co-operative elevator societies.

Co-Operative Banking
If a man of small means needs to borrow money he will find it difficult, but if several men join together the affair is made easier. Similarly, a man with a small amount of money to invest is at a disadvantage unless he joins with neighbors. These are the two maxims upon which the extensive credit co-operation of Germany is based, the system which has been copied by all the countries of Europe and in recent years by the United States and known as Rural Credits, etc. They are the basis, too, of the building and loan societies, which in Canada and the United States, make it possible for thousands of families to own their homes.

Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association
This organization was formed and is operated for orderly marketing and orderly liquidation of cotton. It was organized in 1921 and modeled after the successful features and beneficial experience of the successful co-operatives in Denmark and California. The movement was started, it has been said without pen or pencil, without experience and without precedent of operation with respect to the commodity—cotton. The movement grew, however, and every contingency was met with such sound reasoning and constructive action that today the organization stands as one of the largest business institutions in Texas, recognized and approved by government officials, agricultural leaders, outstanding economists, banks, bankers and business men, and bids fair, with its kindred and affiliated organizations to do for the Cotton Growers of the South what the Fruit Growers organizations of California have done for the fruit raisers in that State.

American Backwardness
Though there are no reliable figures of co-operation in the United States and Canada accessible, the following table of the numbers in each country who are members of co-operative societies gives the situation in a general way:

Denmark one to four.
Switzerland, one to ten.
Austria, Germany, Rumania, one to thirteen.
Belgium, Finland, one to fifteen.
Netherlands, Russia, Great Britain, one to sixteen.
Japan, one to one hundred.
Canada, one to three hundred.
United States, one to one thousand.
Several European countries have been omitted in which the proportion of co-operative members is less than one in sixteen; all but Albania, Portugal, Greece and Turkey excel the United States.

Texas Co-Eds Bumping Way Find Hunger Pangs and Thrills

Birmingham Ala., Aug. 7.—Two Texas co-eds were taken into custody here after they had "bumped" their way over five railway systems in the quest of thrills.

Geraldine Vernon and Audrey Sims who said they were students at Southwestern University, were found weak from hunger in a box car Sunday night.

Their spirits rose considerably after police furnished supper, however, and they confided to officials they had "more fun than a barrel of non-keys."

After promising not to ride any more freight trains the girls were released. They were believed to be on their way back to Texas Monday.

How Cork Leg Kept War Veteran Trying To Drown Self Told

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 6.—How a cork leg kept Bruce McQuillen, 43 year old war veteran afloat after an alleged suicide leap in midocean from the Cunard liner Samaria, was learned Monday by friends of McQuillen and his father Dr. Daniel Neall Mc-

Quillen well known Philadelphia dentist.

McQuillen, who was on his way to Europe with his father and a party of friends was rescued when a boat was lowered from the liner. After his removal to the sick bay of the ship he slashed his wrists.

Because of his condition the party abandoned their proposed European tour and remained aboard the Samaria for the return voyage. According to Dr. McQuillen, his son has been dispondent because of wounds received during the war. When the ship docked at New York Sunday night McQuillen was taken to a hospital.

Election Panics

Business is easily frightened. At least, that is true of those who lend money, borrow money, or invest money in industries. It is admitted that while there may be slight differences in the fundamental principles of the two leading political parties, the differences in their practical control of government are so slight as to be almost negligible yet every four years business shudders at the prospect of a change of government political control. It becomes frightened to a standstill and awaits the result of the approaching election. When it is over and it is found that the country moves along with a fair degree of smoothness, business pricks up its ears and starts on its way again. But much valuable time is lost and nothing is gained by the pause in progress.

The point I am trying to make is that there is no need to wait until after the November election to start upon that business enterprise you have in mind. The country is going to be safe with either party in charge and business will move along. Whatever fluctuations there may be in prices and demands will be only temporary and will be about as likely to occur under one administration as another.

Cause of Cotton Slumps

M. H. Wolfe, a veteran Dallas cotton buyer, says that he has been watching the cotton market for 43 years and that year after year the farmers of the South commit financial suicide by rushing their cotton to market at the time of gathering. He thinks the fault is not so much the farmers' as the bankers' and that it is brought about by the system of short credits in practice over the country. Much cotton farming is done on credit, with notes maturing at the time the crop is ready for market. The banks become anxious for their money and the farmer sells at whatever price he can get in order to settle with his bank. Mr. Wolf says that when Southern bankers and cotton farmers lost their heads they also lose the profits that should come from cotton growing.

Valley Citrus Crop

With citrus fruit shipments from the Lower Rio Grande Valley this season reaching 2500 cars as compared with 1300 last year, it is expected that the crop next year will approximate 4000 or 5000 cars and be worth $10,000,000. Texas can produce all the citrus fruit for which it can find a profitable market and the greatest danger now confronting Texas growers is over-production. A late census shows that there are now 3,419,157 citrus trees in the Valley. In every branch of farming, fruit and vegetable production and allied industries, the Texas farmer has only to fear an unprofitable market. Collin county onion growers are plowing under their onion crops because they will not pay for the gathering and crating. California grape growers are leaving half their grapes on the vines in order to maintain prices. Texas figs have been allowed to fall from the trees. Many other crops annually go to waste. The tillers of the soil everywhere are in need of practical help in solving their many marketing problems.

Texas Tomato Crop

Smith county alone has shipped more than 1000 cars of tomatoes this season. Last year the shipments totaled 739 counties. Smith is only one of many counties growing tomatoes for carlot shipments. There are at least a hundred others in Texas where vegetables of almost all kinds can be grown about as successfully as in Smith county. The price paid for tomatoes this year has ranged from 1-2 to 2 cents, which the growers regard as unsatisfactory. Consumers in Texas cities have been paying from 8 to 12-2 cents, which they consider too high. There is need for some agency to take a hand in adjusting the prices of farm products to do away with the disproportion in prices from producer to consumer.

Getting Natural Gas

Cameron is happy that it has natural gas and well it may be if its consumption proves as economical as it is convenient. Uvalde is now laying natural gas mains, San Marcos has before it a proposal for natural gas, but as that city is installing water mains, and the gas mains will have to be installed above these, the gas franchise must await the completion of the water plant. San Marcos officials show wisdom in this orderly proceeding. Many other places have not been so careful. Progress is desirable but progress should be orderly and economical. Mistakes may even be made in granting public utility franchises to the first concerns applying for them.

Goliad's Oil Seepage

There is no guessing where oil is going to be found in Texas. Oil seepage is injuring a Goliad swimming pool, as the swimmers don't like to remove the oil from their bodies after taking a plunge. But it has led to plans for tracing the oil to its source and may result in uncovering a new oil field in Texas.

School Buildings

Donna, in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, will invest $300,000 in new school buildings and several smaller buildings. Texas and especially South Texas is showing its interest in better education by the erection of better buildings, that are better equipped for the care and training of students. Corpus Christi is among the larger South Texas cities that is noted for its good school buildings, and it has recently let a contract for a new high school to cost $219,000.

Gonzales Tomatoes

Gonzales business men have been so pleased with the results of the Gonzales tomato industry this year that they are already at work on plans for a tomato shipping plant there. Business should always show interest in its local farming and stand ready to co-operate in plans that are to their mutual advantage.

Marking Best Blocks

In a city-wide beautification contest in San Antonio bronze tablets are to be placed at both ends of what has been declared the best kept block in the city. Beautification contests always improve the looks of an entire city by increasing civic and home pride. San Antonio's method of awarding is inexpensive. The tablets should remain only so long as the blocks are kept ahead of others in improved appearance.

Texas State Parks

The Texas State Park committee will recommend three park locations in Uvalde county in the hills to the north of Sabin. The locations are said to be among the prettiest park sites in the State, and Texas is now known to abound in attractive spots that may be converted into State parks. Well kept parks, whether in the country or the cities are standing invitations to tourists, a swell as places in which the "home folks" can have much pride and comfort.

Motor Trucks Seen Changing Diet and Styles of America

It's a long step from a grimy motor truck roaring along a country road to the food or dress of the average family but trucks are playing a big part in the changing diet and styles of America, according to Pope Sapp, local dealer for Graham Brothers trucks and Dodge Brothers motor cars.

"Government surveys show increasing amounts of vegetables and fruits on the American menu," said Mr. Sapp. A larger variety of meats is possible with the availability of fresh cuts in all markets. Milk drinking is increasing. Blanket distribution made possible only through short speedy service of modern trucking is the answer to the new diet of the country today. The consumer and the producer are neighbors regardless of distance.

"The commercial car has solved the distribution of produce in less than car load lots in smaller localities. City jobbers are finding business in suburban areas showing substantial increases, and farmers are enjoying an economical and dependable access to city markets in the ownership of motor trucks.

"Similarly, styles have swept uniformly over the country with fashion geared to automotive transport. Merchants can keep smaller stocks because of immediate deliveries. Rapid stock turn-over is insuring latest style at lowest prices. Back country sections in the old sense of the word are disappearing. The jobber and retailer are linked by motor truck and the customer benefits.

"Even the wash tub and family clothes line are fading from the city and its suburbs. Wash days is fast being routed by armies of laundry men riding to the victorious battle in swift fleets of motor delivery trucks. Modern laundries and cleaning establishments have built up amazingly large fleets of commercial cars often serving territory embracing a 40 mile radius from the home office.

"The next decade will see extension of nearly every city convenience to the rural districts by means of motor transport."

Please Note the Recent Important Changes.

Those who have at some time studied Byrne Simplified Shorthand or Byrne Practical Bookkeeping, or both, and those that have not but desire to enter a Commercial College will please note: All royalty contracts with other schools heretofore teaching my systems have been closed out so as to make the Byrne Commercial College of Dallas, Texas, which I own and control, the only commercial school in Texas now permitted to teach the Famous Byrne Simplified Shorthand and Byrne Practical Bookkeeping. You are, no doubt asked from time to time to recommend a commercial school and if you have studied these systems, you realize their advantages in that they can be mastered in half the time and at half the cost of others.

May I mail you a catalogue of the Byrne Commercial College that you may better realize what a large and splendid school I am building in Dallas—The City of Employment.

Have you studied either Byrne Simplified Shorthand or the Byrne Practical Bookkeeping?

Kindly give the names and addresses of young people likely to be interested in a business education in the near future.
